● Graphics/Tech for Beginners

We thought it might blow over, but it's here to stay for a while. Media in ministry is a big deal - on screen, social and print. This workshop is an introduction to media creation and resources in your church (on a budget!).

● Reach Local (Community Outreach)

This workshop will cover information and ideas that have been tried and proven! Your church has an opportunity to serve the community - reaching the lost and adding to the church in growth and service! No prior experience or educational degrees are required to gain favor with community businesses. The only thing required is a passion for people and to make yourself available!

● I'm Called to Ministry - What's Next? The Countdown to Credentials! The Challenge... The Construction... The Connection!

If you have ever considered studying for your credentials, then don't waste another moment. We will discuss the challenges, the how-to's step by step and connection points that can access doors that only God can open.

- The Dynamics of Small Groups

Healthy small groups are powerful in discipleship and creating spiritual family. Are you wanting to launch small groups for the first time or strengthen the ones already in place? The workshop is for you. Identify best practices and recognize pitfalls in small group ministry.

- Healthy Ministry Boundaries

God wants you to thrive in ministry. During our time together we will discuss some of the most common mistakes leaders make and how to experience the abundant life Jesus taught on in John 10:10. God did not call you into leadership to suffer. He called us into ministry to make an impact! We will discuss how to set proper boundaries, schedule time, prioritize, and address other topics that lead to better overall health in ministry.

- How to Lead When You're Not in Charge: (Leading from the 2nd Chair)

The second chair is a powerful place of influence. Is leading from the second chair a true calling or a convenient stepping stone for you? While both are possible, the goal of this season is to share the importance of contributing to the success of the lead pastor, and the vision of the house, by understanding the various aspects and requirements of leading from the second chair.

- I Do See Color: What should the church look and sound like in these racially charged times?

Why is the church just as divided as our society? Discover how the church, by the power of the Holy Spirit, can model racial unity and harmony before the world we are called to reach. It will be a great time of learning from one another and listening to each other as we move towards Unity.

- Who Are You: The Strength of Knowing Your Personality and Gifts

It's completely purposeful that God created us as unique expressions of Himself. His creation and your experience have combined to help you become the person you are now, and that person has great influence! Discover your spiritual gifts and unique personality and how you can flourish right where you are.

- How to Create a Missions-Focused Church

This workshop examines the ways in which church communities can streamline their mission vision and programs to positively affect their communities and the nations for Christ.

- Events to Launch a Movement

Planning an event can turn the most capable person into a ball of nerves. But if we understand the true purpose of the event, we can embrace and enjoy providing quality and excellent events that lead to life-change!

- AV 101 & Stage Design on a Budget

We believe in equipping worship teams to lead people into a profound experience with God that transforms lives, and that we can do this without spending thousands on a stage design! Come gather resources, ideas, and information for transforming your stage.

- More than Music: Becoming a Highly Effective Worship Team
Build Godly character and spiritual maturity into your worship team. Worship is best when lead by worshippers with rich spiritual lives and strong character. Gather the tools and courage to call your team to a higher level.
